

THE OLD AND THE NEW WAY

Some Important Facts Which May Prove Helpful.

Thirty years ago old-fashioned cod liver oil had to be forced down a patient's throat. Invalids couldn't take it, and children wouldn't. But the doctors prescribed it, and it had to be taken by force. Yet it cured people where enough could be taken into the system, for it has ever been the greatest of all tissue builders and general reconstructors known to medicine.

We are now anxious to have every one know that Vinol is a new form of this very old and valuable remedy, cod liver oil. It contains in a concentrated form all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, but by a new process it is made without oil or grease, and it is as delicious to the taste as a fresh orange.

Vinol does not upset the stomach like old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions; its strengthening and healing properties are remarkable, and both doctors and patients are delighted with its action.

Many wonderful cures right here in Pendleton have been effected by its use, and we ask all of our customers to try Vinol on our guarantee to make rich, red blood, increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, run down, tired and debilitated, or cure chronic colds, hacking coughs or bronchitis. BOLL WEEVIL PEST

WILL BE STUDIED IN A SOUTHERN CONVENTION.

All the Cotton Growing Districts Are Represented in a Convention at Shreveport, Louisiana—The General Government and State Governments Are Interested, and Contribute to the Efforts to Eliminate the Pest.

Shreveport, La., Dec. 12.—All that has been learned during the past few years about the different ways of combating the boll weevil will be revealed at the National Cotton Boll Weevil convention, which began a four days' session in Shreveport today. The gathering is the largest and most representative of the several conferences of its kind held during the last year or two.

The roll call at the formal opening this afternoon showed all of the cotton-growing states to be well represented, though, quite naturally, the largest number of delegates came from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, where the ravages of the Mexican pest have been most extensive and disastrous. The initial session of the convention was devoted to the opening formalities.

Governor Blanchard of Louisiana, in an address of welcome, extended cordial greeting to the visitors and emphasized the importance of the gathering. The response was delivered by Governor Frazier of Tennessee. The remainder of the session was taken up with the work of permanent organization, appointment of the necessary committees and other work of a routine nature.

The dominant feature of the succeeding sessions of the convention will be the addresses by the government and state entomologists whose work during the last year or two, while it has not stopped the ravages of the insects, has helped to restrict in a measure their field of operations. The entomologists will explain to the convention the nature and results of their experiments and present their views in regard to the future course to be adopted. Other speakers who will be heard include Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Edward Atkinson of Boston, Prof. J. H. Connell of Dallas, and Congressman A. L. Burleson of Texas.

WAR ON TOBACCO TRUST.

Independent Dealers and Manufacturers Organize.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 12.—Organized warfare against the tobacco trust is to be carried on in earnest if the plans of the national convention of independent tobacco manufacturers and dealers begun here today are carried out.

The convention is the result of a call sent out some time ago by the independent dealers of Philadelphia, who have been more successful than their brethren in other cities in holding the trust at bay. The call was responded to by the independents of many of the largest cities of the country and by the growers and manufacturers of Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kentucky, Virginia and other states. The result is the largest gathering of the kind ever held in this country, there being more than 7000 persons interested in the tobacco trade in attendance.

The plan of the promoters of the movement is to organize for concerted action all of the independent associations now in existence. These include the Independent Tobacco Manufacturers' Association of the United States and the Independent Tobacco League of America together with some 20 state associations.

Tomorrow's Money.

Money counts today, but the money of today is worthless tomorrow. The multimillionaire of Monday dies on Tuesday, is buried on Wednesday and is forgotten on Thursday. The real man who has something to him above and beyond trading, who neither reckons himself nor is reckoned by his dollars, never dies.—Hayfield Mower.

A Turkish Riddle.

Here is an old Turkish riddle which has been handed down for many centuries and yet has never been answered: "There was once a beggar, and there was a pasha who always dreamed he was a beggar. Which was the happier?"

Why She Was In It.

Phyllis—Charlie Short told me the other day that he preferred blond girls. Isabel—You must be mistaken. He proposed to me last week, and I am a decided brunette. Phyllis—True, dear, but then you have a fair income.—St. Louis Republic.

The Convincing Argument.

Young Lady Shopper—This piece of dress goods suits me, except that I do not think the figure in it is pretty. Subtle Salesman—Ah, but you surely will when it is made up and you have the dress on.

Something to Give Them.

"Mary," said the invalid to his wife, when the doctor pronounced it a case of scarlet fever, "if any of my creditors call, tell them that I am at last in a condition to give them something."

Deriving a long life I have proved that not one kind word ever spoken, not one kind deed ever done, but sooner or later returns to bless the giver.—Lord Shaftesbury.
